

Customer Story

Martyn started racing in the Motor Club while at university in 1979. He took part in navigation rallies and developed a passion for rally cars. By 1984, Martyn owned his own motorsport company, which built and maintained rally cars. He did this for 5 years before joining Prodrive. In his role, he worked with the Subaru rally team, travelling around the world. Some of the places he visited include: Argentina, Russia, Kenya, Poland, Canada, and the US.

Martyn has numerous cars including a 1997 Subaru Impreza of late Colin McRae. He also owns another Colin McRae car – a 1995 Subaru along with a 1965 Austin A40 and an Opel Commodore GSE, an executive car built by Opel from 1967 to 1982. By far his favorite though is his 1997 Subaru Impreza, which he will rally regularly.

“ I’ve been into Motorsport all my life and I towed all kinds of enclosed trailers, but Turatello are by far the best choice because of the insulated panels and the clever hydraulic system. ”

At the Autosport International in January 2015, Martyn bought the first Turatello UK Trailer – the F26. He has since bought a second Turatello trailer after selling his first one to one of his customers.

As part of his business i.e. transport for exotic racing, Martyn has towed practically every trailer on the market and admits that nothing beats Turatello. Here are some of the benefits that Martyn mentioned when discussing Turatello Trailers:
